

LINO TAGLIAPIETRA

ANNOUNCEMENT

Maestro Tagliapietra introduces a new panel series that was designed and produced in Murano, Italy, over the course of 2020-2021.

"For more than 40 years, work and travel have been my life companions.

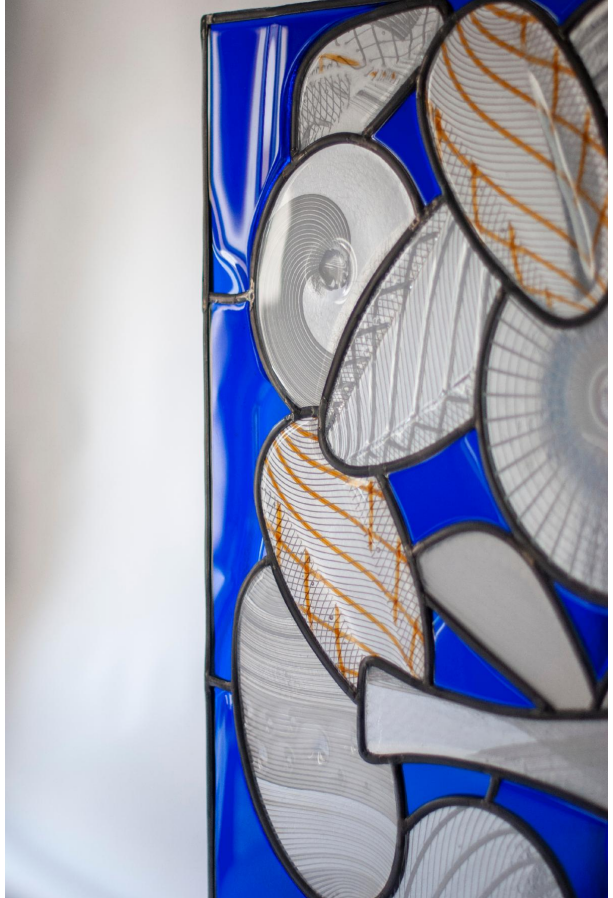

I have never needed a break and have always loved to be busy on a daily basis, but all of a sudden I had to stop. Not just me, but the entire world had to stop. To fight this pandemic and lockdown I decided to dedicate all my time to those very complex projects I never had enough time to give my full attention to.

I decided to start again using my blown work, cutting them and somehow turning them upside down in the same way this pandemic has turned our lives upside down. After a long year and a half of trials and hard work this is my ultimate innovation.

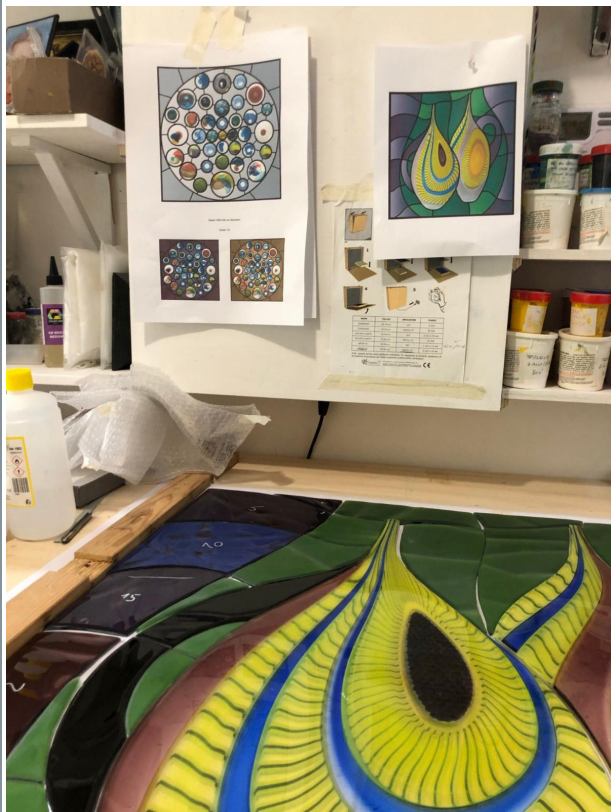

Dream of a Long Winter ."

The Dream of a Long Winter series will be displayed in the Maestro's summer exhibitions at partner galleries. Stay tuned for more information!
